Event is Sunday, May 22, 2016. Times for volunteers to arrive and minimum amount of volunteers needed are listed next to the teams.

A HUGE THANK YOU to all who are interested in volunteering for this event! We could not host this event without YOU!

In addition to teams, explained below, we also need individual volunteers to help oversee the general operations of the event. There is certainly an opportunity for varied ages and abilities to help out. Individual volunteers can also help with a specific team if help is needed in that area and that is what interests them.
